

Let the Outside in!

When spring starts to stir and the mild, fresh days begin. When summer presses gently on the lawn and warms the air. When autumn mellows the world with golden, slanting sunlight. When the world outside calls, what could be better than to open your home to its voice?

And when winter stamps its feet, what could be better than watching its dance from a snug, warm and secure room?

Elitis patio and French doors are manufactured following exacting British Standards to glide open to welcome the fresh air, and slide smoothly closed to shut out the worst of the elements. High performance double glazed sealed units keep the cold and noise at bay, while careful attention to security keeps out unwelcome visitors.

As well as opening your home to your garden, Elitis patio doors are ideal for conservatories and porches. They're manufactured to exceed British standards from high specification PVCu or Aluminium to provide you with years of trouble-free pleasure. But unlike most doors, you're not limited to just the familiar white frames; Elitis gives you the choice of rich solid colours or the authentic appearance of painted wood. And now, for PVCu, Elitis NatureGrain brings you the choice of fine timber finishes with incredible realism, right down to knots and shakes. You can even choose different finishes inside and out.

But if pure white is the best choice to suit your home, then we have that too!

Quick trouble-free installation

Elitis patio and French doors are designed so that they can be installed with the absolute minimum of disruption. The 70mm multi-chambered slim-line frames mean that we can usually replace existing windows without cutting back your plaster, preserving your interior decoration. They're also ideally suited for coupling directly next to other windows, as is often the case for porches and conservatory installations.

French double doors

Inline patio double door

Opening onto the world

French doors provide a more traditional opening to your garden. Suspended on heavy-duty anti-lift hinges, they swing wide to let the fresh air into your room. They also boast 10 point locking for your security. We also now offer a 'Tilt' option French door.

Hinged or sliding: Elitis patio and French doors give you the ultimate choice that will enhance your home.

Elitis patios at a glance

All our glazed products are made to the highest standards for security, noise reduction and thermal insulation for a long working life. Every Elitis inline patio door is built to the following standards:

- Bespoke manufactured ready to install
- Fully fusion welded joints for strength
- 70mm multi-chambered slim-line frames
- Internally quadrant feature beaded
- 28mm high performance double glazed units
- Stainless steel track for smooth sliding operation and long life
- 6 point anti-jemmy/anti-lift locking mechanism
- Aluminium anti-lift interlock
- 2, 3 and 4 pane options
- Fully reinforced with galvanised structural steel
- Easily adjustable roller system
- Concealed drainage
- Gold, white, black or chrome handles
- Locking from the inside and outside

Make sure that you are buying genuine Elitis products. All Elitis doors come with a comprehensive guarantee, backed by more than thirty years of dependability from their British manufacturer. Every product is individually numbered and comes with its own Elitis completion Pack.

Your security

We take your security very seriously. All our patio and French doors are fitted with latches that are protected inside steel keeps, making them virtually impossible to access by force. Many intruders attempt to force patio doors by lifting them off their mountings, so Elitis doors are fitted with anti-lift devices, while the six point locking system (10 Point on French Double Doors) defeats the most determined criminal. The double glazing is fitted from inside of the home, making it impossible to remove from the outside.

When you choose Elitis, you're choosing security as well as beauty and performance.

Elitis Bifold

Elitis also supply Bifold patio doors. They glide smoothly back on themselves to give you uninterrupted access to your garden, your conservatory, or even your swimming pool. Ask for your Bi-fold leaflet for more details.

